The Wikimedia Foundation's Community health initiative plans to design and build a new user reporting system to make it easier for people experiencing harassment and other forms of abuse to provide accurate information to the appropriate channel for action to be taken.

A multi-phase user reporting system consultation is happening from February through June 2019. The consultation will gather input from as many different parts of the Wikimedia community as possible—from different types of Wikimedia wikis projects, from people with a variety of different roles, and from people living in different cultures and geographic locations.

It is particularly important to obtain multiple perspectives from the people who have been targets of harassment, people accused, and the people in the Wikimedia movement who currently are handling reports of harassment and abuse.

Input will be taken in a variety of different methods including on wiki comments, by private email, through user interviews, and with live focus groups.

Title of presentation: FREEDOM OF PANORAMA: From the outside looking in

Presenter: Winstoney Marie SA. Salceda-Mazo

Copyright breach is widespread in the digital era where anyone can access and share almost anything in the internet. One of the challenges of this era is how far can our laws allow the use of publicly displayed copyrighted works to proliferate the world wide web without infringing on the copyright holder's rights.

“Freedom of Panorama: From the outside looking in.” looks into the international laws and practice as regards to the extent on how publicly displayed copyrighted works can be used by the public and the reception of this new concept in the Philippine context. It will also provide a comparative analysis of these laws and practices and illustrate examples of the challenges it is facing.

The lecture will also focus on freedom of panorama of architectural works, the most common among the publicly displayed copyrighted works, and explore the opinions of notable local architects in the Philippines and in Naga City, Camarines Sur on this concept.
